

HARD DRIVE IS EXPECTED IN THE WEST

FRANC SUCCESSES ARE PREDICTED TO SPRING CAMPAIGN ACTIVITIES.

CHECK RUSS ADVANCE

Teutons In Gigantic Effort Temporarily Halt Invasion of Hungarian Plains.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, April 13.—Field Marshal Sir John French's message to his countrymen at home that "I know when the time comes for us to make our great move, we can break through the Germans," and the British "Eye Witness" statement of yesterday that there are plain signs of the "gradual weakening of the German resistance" are accepted here as an intimation that the present steady pressure on the western front will shortly develop into events of vast scope.

Expect Crucial Events.

It is thus expected the next three months will be especially memorable in this epoch-making war.

Military writers are of the opinion that the reported French successes between the Meuse and Moselle—an important region stretching between the rival fortresses of Verdun and Metz—have given a promising opening for the spring campaign. They regard it as the signal for the general offensive movements which have been awaiting the arrival of adequate accumulation of equipment and supplies.

The suspension of infantry fighting in this all-important Verdun district quickly broken down as was expected by the gallant German attempt to recapture the positions of Espargne, possession of which enables General Joffre to give another twist to the screw of the vice wherein he hopes to grip the German position of St. Mihiel, that bastion-like projection into the French lines, which the invaders have held tenaciously for so many months.

Russia Advance Opposed.

The Russian offensive in the Carpathians continues to meet a strenuous resistance on the part of the combined Austro-Hungarian and although it appears to be slowly winning its way forward toward the fortress of Habsburg, it has encountered enormous difficulties. The Austrians have been preparing their defensive positions throughout the period which has intervened since the Russians first raided this same territory.

To relieve the pressure on the Russians is an additional reason for the activity of their allies in the west. The report that Emperor William is directing the operations in the Carpathians does not, it is also the rumor from Cologne that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has asked for reinforcements to the extent of 300,000 men to undertake another campaign against Warsaw. It is thought to be far more likely that he will attempt to divert the attention of the Russians by a thrust from the direction of Cracow.

Reports that a battle is raging in the North sea which have come from so many different sources apparently are mythical.

More Work for Diplomats.

The reported German declaration that British officers have been imprisoned in the military detention barracks in retaliation for the refusal of the British to accord the same treatment to a crew of a German submarine as to other prisoners, is expected to place additional labor on the shoulders of American diplomats. Their good offices probably will be requested in this connection. According to a message from Amsterdam the German foreign minister presented a note to Great Britain's course and asked Mr. Redfield to arrange personal investigation by means of the staff of the American embassy in London.

Check Invading Russians.

Washington, April 13.—An official war office bulletin from Vienna received by the Austro-Hungarian ministry here today said the Russian offensive in the Carpathians had been brought to a standstill, and counter attacks had broken the Russian lines in several places.

War News Summary.

The effort of the allies to drive back the German wedge in the Meuse-Moselle regions continues unremittingly, but official communications from both Paris and Berlin indicate the German lines are holding.

The Berlin announcement speaks of a number of French infantry attacks with small strong forces which are said to have been repelled. Small gains are claimed for the Germans in the forest of La Prethes. The French will suffice, only briefly, to this fighting, saying at several points the attackers made their way to wire entanglements of the Germans.

Elsewhere over the western front there was a lull yesterday. German aviators dropped bombs on three towns occupied by the British.

The German attack on Russian forces in the north near the Prussian frontier was resumed yesterday, and another battle is in progress for the possession of important Russian forces of Isowetz. The abandonment of the former siege of this fortress had been interpreted in Petrograd as indicating that the Germans had given up their attempt to break through the Russian line of defenses on Warsaw from the north.

Five independent Austrian armies are operating along the Carpathian front. Petrograd newspapers published semi-official reports to the effect that these armies are under the direction of the German general staff with Emperor William personally supervising the staff.

In Bukowina a heavy fight is in progress according to Bucharest dispatches to Paris. If two Austrian armored trains which advanced against the Russians today, one is said to have been blown up and the other forced to withdraw after being damaged.

The Italian military authorities have ordered army officers to dull the metal on their uniforms and scabbards. This is considered as a measure usually adopted on the eve of war.

TEUTONS NOT READY BATTLE TO FINISH

Germans in Rome Show That Germany is Able to Carry on War for an Indefinite Length of Time.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Rome, April 12, via Paris, April 13.—Information obtained from the highest German sources in the city is to the effect that there is absolutely no basis for reports that peace negotiations under certain conditions are being considered in Berlin. These reports, it is said, are based upon ignorance of the actual conditions in the empire. This assertion is made that both Germany and Austria, particularly the former, have within their borders supplies of everything necessary to prolong the war indefinitely.

Plans Mapped Out.

Well informed Germans in Rome declare the determination of the central empire to carry on the conflict to the end will become apparent when the campaign is resumed with fresh vigor on both fronts, according to plans mapped out by the general staff during the winter. The same sources of information are authority for the statement that not only can Germany provide enough food to support her people, but that she has on hand a plentiful store of supplies for manufacturing arms and ammunition.

President's View.

Washington, April 13.—Commenting on the statement of Pope Benedict that the latter had informed a desire to support any move the United States might take for peace, President Wilson declared today, "Intimations of this character had been frequently conceded to him from different persons. He said, however, no formal communications had come to him on the subject.

While the United States government was not consulted in connection with the international women's peace conference at The Hague, the president indicated today the movement had his sympathetic support.

SOCIALISM SCORED
BY K. C. LECTURER

PETER W. COLLINS GIVES MANY CONVINCING ARGUMENTS AGAINST DOCTRINE AND BELIEF.

QUOTES MANY WRITERS

Myers Theatre Packed to Capacity Last Evening With People Eager to Hear the Speaker.

The Ten Commandments have been the beacon lights of history through all the ages, and they'll be doing business at the same old stand when the sun is shining on the grave of socialism.—Peter W. Collins.

A packed house last evening crowded into the Myers Theatre and listened to Peter W. Collins of Boston, Massachusetts, lecture on "Socialism, the Coming Menace." The lecture was given under the auspices of the local Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Collins, through a series of strong, forcible arguments, showed that socialism did not originate from the working classes, never was of them, for them or by them, and never had anything in common with them. Not from or by Tanners.

He took each of the first heads and husband of the youngest daughter, the three of whom committed suicide. If it holds nothing more than that to those who are the nearest and dearest in the very fountain head, the absolute source and nucleus of socialism, what then becomes it to the ten million men who believe in socialism, thinking and believing that they really know what socialism is and what it teaches? What can it hold for these outsiders? Nothing. It holds nothing but bitterness and hate and discontent."

At the close of the lecture the speaker was ready to answer any number of questions relative to his subject. But one was asked and that seemed to have been answered in a satisfactory manner.

Safety First

Chicago & Northwestern Railway, Frank Murphy, timekeeper at the Northwestern Shops at Milwaukee, was the guest of friends in the city Sunday.

Martin Lindaas of Spring Valley is in charge of the car department at South Janesville, having assumed the foremanship made vacant when A. M. Hayenhill took charge of the rip track at Madison.

Employees of the South Janesville shops had a fire drill last week.

Howard Wade of the car department is rapidly convalescing from his recent operation in Chicago. "Doc" will be back again some time next week.

Engines 1251 and 614 are in the shops for repairs.

Fred Bartsch, storekeeper, spent Sunday at his home in Kaukauna.

Three cars of bad order wheels were shipped to the Chicago shops from the local yards yesterday.

Traffic business continues in a demoralized condition. Large numbers of firemen and extra engineers have been taken off the board entirely. It has been some time since business has been at such a status. Not only the Northwestern but practically every system in the country is affected with the lull.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. D. Burlingame, a C. & M. freight conductor, who has a large number of friends among local railroad men, has an interesting article on the safety movement in the April number of the Employees' Magazine. Mr. Burlingame writes on the subject as follows:

"On the subject of safety first there have been a great many valuable ideas introduced, which have been proven by their being put into force, but there is still room for more so that the safety first policy may be further advanced."

"I believe that if cleanliness was thoroughly practiced it would contribute largely to safety first methods, and in explanation I would suggest that the trainmen practice the art of cleanliness in their caboose, keep their signal lanterns and markers perfectly trimmed and oil wells supplied with clean oil and if they do this they will find that a clean and bright signal is the best signal and is also the best method of finding out the quality of oil you are receiving, and if practice will result in a perfect light unless the oil is not of the best quality, and if not, there is no one who wants to know of this more than the company.

"Also endeavor to have a clean set of signal flags, so that when being used the colors, which in themselves are signals, may be readily distinguished as far as the range of vision.

This only applies to trainmen, but all have to attend to the display of signals, either fixed or fixed."

"Therefore, I suggest that trainmen keep their caboose, and all equipment in a clean condition.

"Station agents, trainmen, operators and engineers be clean and you will add to the effect of safety operations of trains that will bring an expression of appreciation so pronounced that you will feel well repaid for the little extra effort you made in this direction."

"To the management I would say: Encourage cleanliness as clean workers are very much more economical, certainly more desirous and surely fitted to do better work in every respect, whether the man is holding a menial or the highest position."

COMMERCIAL CLUB DISCUSSES MORE FACTORY PROPOSITIONS

Two industrial propositions were given consideration yesterday by the Janesville Commercial club at its regular weekly luncheon and meeting. Both were referred to the industrial committee for investigation.

Other propositions of a similar nature which came up at recent meetings were reported upon and left for further inquiry into the merits of each.

The matter of the organization of a Rock County Stock Breeders' association was discussed. Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the court house here there will be a meeting of all stock breeders of the county for the purpose of completing the arrangements now proposed.

Socialists Against Unions.

The speaker next showed that socialists are seeking to gain the support of the working class by telling them they were for him before and so was really opposed to labor unions and all other good trades and labor organizations and had done all in their power to break the power these organizations had on their hard-working Christian members.

He showed where socialist leaders had started the A. R. U. to destroy the power that the different engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen's organizations had. Here he showed that if this power was broken that the men would be helpless and would be forced perhaps by unscrupulous employers to work for lower wages, and that they would consequently turn to socialism as the last resort, hoping that maybe it did hold out something for them.

"But," said the speaker, "socialism holds out nothing for no man except discontent and bitterness. It held out nothing on this side of the grave for the two daughters of Carl Marx and the

PETE DINK—FEAR OF DISGRACE IS SURE A COMPELLING FORCE.

"CUBS" WILL HAVE HARD SLEDDING IN NATIONAL CIRCUIT

Chicago Will Have a Big Problem
Turn Wrecked Cub Machine
Into a Pennant Aggregation.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Chicago, April 13.—With a new manager at the helm the Cubs will again face the barrier in the National League race next Wednesday. It is suspected that Bresnahan's crew is full of confidence and that it has its collective eye on the flag which at the end of the season goes to the winner in the 164-game marathon. Reports from the Southland indicate that the team is on edge which fact should have a disturbing influence on the St. Louis Cardinals whom the schedule committee has appointed to help in prying off the lid here.

The Chicago fan it will be the sifting up of a new combination. They will be looking over McLary at second and Fisher at short in particular. Then the tactics of the new leader will probably come in for considerable scrutiny. Bresnahan had his foot over the ball in the middle some time ago, but, unfortunately, he seemed to have planted his other on a banana peel, and thus the great slip of ancient memory. Now he has come his opportunity, and it is more than an even bet that he will have to a lot of old Cub fans behind him and a lot of new ones.

Job for Bresnahan.

Those who have an opportunity to size up the "Cubs" this spring think that Bresnahan has done a job on his hands to whip the men under him into pennant possibilities, but Roger is regarded as no ordinary manager, and he may do what Stalings did at Boston last season. Still Bresnahan lacks a real keystone king and judging from the exhibition games so far this year the ivory trimmings have not been dispensed with.

Then there are Archer and the major for himself, both mighty handy with the stick. Phelan and Corriden will be useful to fill in if occasion should require.

The pitching problem should not worry Bresnahan if his veterans can get the kinks out of their arms. Cold weather in the South retarded their conditioning a lot, but with warmer weather further north they have been turned out. Cheney, Humphries, Vaughn and Layden seem to have rounded to and come out of Boston. Bresnahan seems to be as well fortified as the rest.

As regards the other clubs in the league, the wise critics in the East have almost unanimously voted the Boston Braves another pennant. They also think down there that both the Cubs and the Cardinals in the West are stronger, but with the confidence of past victories back of them it is figured that the Bostonites have the call.

Perritt Aids Giants.

The Giants have found it hard to cut down to the limit of twenty-one men and little new blood has been infused. The acquisition of Pot Peritt, who flopped from the Pittsburgh Feds, and Loebert should help McRaw considerably, even though he had to part with Bescher. The latter should make the Cards look more classy.

How Brooklyn does not present such a weak front but the Dodgers may seem to be able to untrack them selves. Also it must have been an awful blow to Ebbets to cut the limit down, as Charles Hercules was the champion drafter to the league.

It is a toss-up for the Pirates and the Phillies. The Quakers have not yet recovered from the raid of the Feds last year and Manager Moran seems to have a awfully uphill job on his hands. Pittsburgh has an uncertain aggregation and Cincinnati has already started its internal carrying by initiating a feud between the directors and the active management. Herzog is a good leader, but, unless he is given a free swing as manager, the Reds will have a mighty slim chance.

Thus it seems as if Boston, New York, Chicago and St. Louis were the most prominent candidates for first division berths, with a free for all below the line.

NEW POLE VAULT RECORD MADE BY WESTERN STAR.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Portland, Ore., April 13.—A new world's indoor athletic record was established here this afternoon when Sam Bellah, of the Multnomah Club of Portland, cleared the bar at 12 feet, 7 1/2 inches in the pole vaulting event at the annual Columbia University inter-collegiate and club meet.

Johnny Gold, captain of the Wisconsin track team in 1913, held the world's indoor pole vaulting record until yesterday. Gold vaulted 12 feet 6 inches at the indoor conference meet in 1913.

An ex-Cleveland battery, Finis Wilson and Grover Land, is expected to figure prominently with the Brooklyn Feds this year. Wilson, from the Southland, has jumped from the A. A. Manager Magee of the Brookfields is highly pleased with the form Wilson has been displaying in the south. Land is stated to have the catching burden with Mike Simon. Magee claims Land is one of the best there is when it comes to blocking the plate.

GIBBONS IN DEMAND FOR FORFEIT MONEY

"Phantom" Declares Packey McFarland Must Put Thousand Dollar Forfeit for Weight or Match is Off.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., April 13.—Packey McFarland must post a $1,000 forfeit by next Wednesday to bind his match with Mike Gibbons or the show is off.

The St. Paul phantom today hurled this ultimatum at the stock yards dancing master. Mike has already posted his forfeit with Tom Andrews, of the Cream City A. C. and is a bit peeved because Packey has failed to come through.

"I am tired of acting the part of a press agent for McFarland," says Gibbons. "If he is sincere in his intention to fight me, why doesn't he put up his money and take the weight? I've dallied long enough with him. There is a conference scheduled for Wednesday in Chicago at which Packey will have to put up or shut up."

Hearn Signs.

New York, April 13.—Young Abearn, New York middleweight, signed today to meet Gus Christie Saturday night and George Chip on April 26th.

Ready for Articles.

Milwaukee April 13.—Johnnie Ertle, the St. Paul bantam, is ready to meet Kid Williams, champion for ten rounds before the Cream City club if Matchmaker Andrews can obtain Williams' consent to the match. The club plans to stage the match early next month.

Scotty Gets Draw.

Milwaukee April 13.—Young Scotty, k. o. record last night when he knocked the Racine kid down twice in the fifth round and had him nearly out when the bell saved him. Up to the fifth the savage milling was even. Scotty caught Mahoney with a swing behind the ear and stretched him for the count of nine. As the Racine kid awoke, Scotty put him to the mat again and the bell saved Mahoney.

In the sixth round Mahoney came back strong and obtained a draw through Scotty's poor defense work.

Billy Walters failed to appear for the battle with Billy Krammer. He is expected to be barred by the state commission.

EDDIE LENIHAN TO PLAY WITH GRAND FORKS TEAM

Eddie Lenehan, who in 1913 covered first base for the Janesville Cardinals and last year was captain of the Beloit North Ends, expects to land a berth at first with the Grand Forks team in North Dakota. Janesville fans wish Eddie luck, and if he impresses with his stick he should land the job.

It is probable that very soon, now, the deal between the Reds and Cardinals, which involves Catcher Ivy Wingo, will be closed. It is said that President Herrmann and the St. Louis club officials are about agreed on what is to be given for Wingo, but that the decision of Federal Wingate Lands still is holding up the formal closing of the deal.

There are always bargains in the classified columns.

JONES HOPES HIS TWIRLERS TAKEN FROM MAJOR LEAGUES WILL STAGE COMEBACK

Left to right: Willett, Groom and Plank.

St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—Piloted by Fielder Jones, the St. Louis Feds promise to make a better showing this year than they did last. Jones has drawn some pretty fat material from the major leagues and in addition has taken some of the poor material which made such a ragged showing with the Sloufeds last year and rounded it into fair shape.

The pitching staff, which is regarded as considerably stronger than that of 1914, has been drawn almost entirely from the majors. Eddie Plank, the athletic veteran, is showing up in old-time form in his new uniform, and will be one of the pitching mainstays for the Sloufeds. Oris Crandall, who jumped from the New York Giants to the Feds last year, and who was a Sloufeds regular, is breezing them over the plate in a way that makes him look up as a contender for pitching honors in the league.

Regular Hurts.

The other pitching regulars will be Edgar Willett, one-time Tiger twirler, and Bobby Groom, who gained pitching fame with the Washington Americans.

Jones has three other pitchers. They are Dave Davenport once with the Cincinnati Reds; Charles Watson, who was with the Chicago Feds last year, and Ernie Herbert, a former Cincinnati pitcher. If Davenport could gain control he would rank as one of the greatest pitchers in the baseball world. He's 6 feet 6 inches tall, of powerful build, with a fine assortment of curves and a tremendous amount of steam. But he can't control the ball.

Harry Chapman, once with Atlanta, and Grover Hartley, one-time New York Giant, make up the catching staff.

"Babe" Burton.

"Babe" Burton, who was traded by the White Sox to the Yankees and was then shooed off to the minors, is showing up well at first. Al Britwell, the former Giant and Cub star, is playing a great game at second, with Erie Johnson, the fleet-footed and fast-living youth at short. He once was with the White Sox.

Charlie Deal, who won fame as a Boston player in the 1914 world series, covers third. He's showing up even better at the fielding job than he did with Boston last year. His hitting is more in evidence this year. Jones has taught him a few new tricks about hitting that probably will increase Deal's hitting power by about 30 points.

Was College Star.

Robert Vaughn, star of the Princeton college team a few years ago, and with the Buffalo Internationals last year, and Harry Fritz, who was with the Chicago Feds in 1914, act as utility fielders. Both men are good fielders and good batters.

Jones has five outfielders. Armando Marsans, ranked as one of the greatest outfielders in the National League ever had, is in center. Ward Miller, former Cardinal and Cub player, is in left with John Tobin in right. Tobin is a little fellow. He weighs only about 155 pounds, but he's as fast as lightning. He played on a college team and later as a St. Louis semi-pro until he joined the Sloufeds last year. His work won him a regular berth.

Del Drake, formerly with the Tigers, and Larus Kirby from Mobile, Ala., who was on the Giants' reserve list, are the two extra outfielders.

"I look for my boys to show some real baseball this year," says Jones.

Read the want ads, carefully. The bargain you are looking for may be there.

MORRIS MILLER

Francis Ouimet, the open golf champion, uses a brassie entirely in his driving. The Massachusetts wizard explains that he likes to get his ball up quickly, and says he finds better results with this sort of club.

Jersey City is the most attractive city in baseball. At least that's what the youngsters there insist. President Barrow of the International League has just sent out the news that all the kids who had reserved their knotholes for the season can be assured that the corps of carpenters now working on the fence posts will not plug up the holes, for he has given orders that under no consideration are the rights of the youngsters to be infringed upon. Barrow was a knothole fan himself and upon a time he appreciates what havoc would be wrought if the various "outside season passes" were obliterated.

Bronx Rickey, Brown boss, is worried. The city series with the Cardinals is in the cause. "My pitchers are not in shape," says Rickey. "And with my players out of form, my batters have not been able to get the work they should." Rickey is particularly worried because eight of the Browns' first twelve games are against the White Sox, usually the best conditioned club in the league in the spring.

Bill Bradley, who bossed the Brooklyn fans last year, is going along so well at third base for the Kansas City Packers that he may displace George Perring at that station. He also is hitting well, getting two and three binglings in most every practice game. His fielding is above par.

Oscar Strange is not finding it an easy matter this spring to retain the place of the Tigers' first catcher. There are others who are looking up as having rare ability. John Peters has shown as well that Strange realizes that he will have to hustle to hang on to the title as boss of the backstops. Oscar has been working like a trojan all spring. He is doing more than ever before in an effort to get himself in improved condition for the season. Strange admits that he is not yet right, but he expects to reach his best form by the time the season opens.

It depends entirely on the physique of a ball player whether it is harmful for him to keep in action after the regular season closes. In many instances the player is benefited, and John Henry of the Washington club appears to be one of these. After the close of last season Henry joined the all-star team which stayed in action until February, and Henry never was as good a catcher in his career as he has proved himself this spring, being developed by the in-

The newest thing in passes is shining silver which charms hats good at any park in the Federal League. On one side is a blue circle with the inscription, "Federal League J. A. Gilmore, Pres." in the center. The reverse side bears the inscription "Circuit Pass, 1915," and the holder's name.

Chicago followers of the White Sox are already claiming the pennant for 1915, for Comiskey's aggregation. You would think they were basing this claim solely because of the addition of Eddie Collins, star second baseman, but that isn't the fact. The Chicago fans are seeing the pennant for the Sox because Happy Felsch, Bunny Brief, Tommy Quinlan and Bobby Roth have been put on the team roster. "Hitting has always been the weak point of the Sox," says Bill Bradley, "but we have a club of slugger, and, of course, our pitching staff is insurance. Collins will certainly hit above .300 and Felsch, Brief, Roth and Quinlan can hit well."

As regards the other clubs in the Federal League, the White Sox are the ones to be reckoned with.

ADVERTISING VALUE.

No matter what article you have to trade, sell or barter, there is someone who wants just that article.

The only way to bring the seller of an article and the buyer together is to make known that you wish to dispose of it.

The way to do this is to advertise it.

The newspaper is one of the best mediums to reach the greatest number of possible buyers. In Printers' Ink for April 8th, the following editorial on selling campaign is given.

It is worth considering both from a buyer's and seller's point of view. Based on good, sound, logical conclusions it hits the nail on the head when it says that there are a great many advertising agencies which designate themselves as "general" or "national" which apparently take unto themselves this qualification solely because they place advertisements in publications of general or national circulation.

From our point of view, the intelligent use of national publications is difficult, until the agency has had a very broad experience in the use of many forms of local advertising media, such as newspapers, bill posting, etc., in every part and section of this big country of ours.

That an advertiser and his agent may plan to derive the full advantage of an advertising expenditure, there must, in the first place, be a broad basic knowledge of the situation.

Actual conditions in each state should be known. This information should be matched up with the status of the advertiser's business in each state.

This, in turn, should be considered in connection with an analysis of the circulation of national publications in each state. Only by this process may advertising be made to do its full part in a sales campaign.

Some of the most remarkable national advertising successes have started as local campaigns with a national effort in view as a work of the future.

Too many thinly spread out, poorly supported, so-called national advertising campaigns are started, and the annual death rate is something terrific.

Facts and figures are easily available to every one, and need no comment from us.

This scheme of spending a few thousand dollars in a national publication and then proceeding to blurt the trade in the line of merchandise thus advertised, is pretty well played out.

Helpful, intelligent co-operation with the trade is desirable. Retailers should be responsive to the effort of honest advertisers to place goods on their shelves, but in too many cases consumer advertising is used only as a club on the retailer, and the appropriation is not of sufficient size, nor the advertising effort sufficiently continuous to really accomplish much with the ultimate consumer.

This is true right here in Janesville and lots of business men have goods on their shelves that prospective buyers would be glad to purchase if they knew they had them or could obtain them in the city. There is nothing like printers' ink to disseminate news.

News is distinct from advertising but yet the two are always found on the same page and the person who reads the news reads the advertisements as well. Think it over and see if the conclusion is not correct.

PUBLIC'S BUSINESS.

Any organization, any institution, no matter how organized, no matter how working, that asks for the financial support of the public, is really a public servant. Churches publish financial statements of their conditions so their members can know just how they stand. Business corporations hold election of directors at stated intervals, according to law, so that the stockholders' wishes can be recognized. Cities hold elections according to law. In fact every public corporation protects its members and subscribers and does business in a business way. They know how many subscribers or stockholders they have. They know their indebtedness, they know who are the directors, as do the public, and they comply with all requirements. There is no reason they should not do so. They hold the elections of directors and officers at stated times. It is customary. If they neglect it and their attention is called to it, they do not call themselves persecuted, do not abuse the medium through which their attention is called to the fact they have not complied with all requirements and seek to make excuses as to the whys and wherefore. They stand up and take their medicine and admit their mistake and go ahead and build up their business along new lines and make a success of it. That is the way real, genuine, red-blooded persons act when they are shown they have made a mistake.

LACKING A MEMORY.

An exchange in commenting upon the fact that the attention of a large number of hyphenated persons writing to this and other newspapers to prove that the murder of non-combatants by drowning at sea is retaliation for starving Germany, is directed to a homely old proverb. It is said that a bird should have a good memory.

"It has been repeatedly stated by public men in Germany, and by Dr. Dernberg and other prominent Germans here, that their country is not in the slightest danger of starving. The measures of precaution taken are said to be merely in line with German thoroughness. But whatever murder on the high seas may be, it is not, on Germany's own showing, retaliation for starvation.

"As Germany herself proved in the case of Paris in 1870, starvation is a legitimate weapon with a distinct military advantage, which has always been used in war. It is humane in the only way we can be. It tends to shorten its duration. Sinking of unarmed merchant vessels with non-combatants on board has no military advantage. It can terrorize no civilized race. All it does is to arouse an implacable resentment calculated to prolong, rather than to shorten, the struggle.

"In another way the German memory is短短. When war first broke out, when Germany took the initiative by invading Belgium, what was the reason given? Nothing was said about England, beyond an allusion to 'General French's contemptible little army.' Germany was going to war to protect herself, and the civilized world, from the irritation of the barbaric Slavs.

"It will be seen that in these, as in numerous other cases, the defences set up are mutually destructive. It is not enough to say that both of these specimen statements cannot be true. Neither can be true, for each cancels the other. The Hymn of Hate alludes to the Russians in almost affectionate terms. It is the formerly despised British that Germany is fighting now. The Slav peril has apparently disappeared.

"Her advocates and defenders have shocked the American sense of humanity. But they need not insult our intelligence."

While the senatorial committee hearing the university bill refuses to have remarks that are not complimentary to President Van Slyck of the university introduced in the hearing still in one wants a real good, genuine, honest opinion of the head of our institution of learning let him journey to Fort Atkinson and talk university matters with former Governor William D. Hoard, ex-University Regent Hoard, and Editor Hoard of the Jefferson County Union. They are one and all the same person, but the language he uses can not be mistaken.

From sworn friends and allies to bitter enemies, Carranza and Villa are now disturbing Mexico with all sorts of warfare. If the United States continues its "watchful waiting" policy then we may expect that Huerta on his arrival will find plenty to do and lots of adherents to his cause. It will be like the arrival of Napoleon from Elba and the starting of the hundred days all over again.

Evidently Senator La Follette misunderstood the real issues before the Wisconsin legislature when he had his lieutenants send out that dogma for special action by the voters. It would have been a clever game a few years ago, but in this day and age the man who advocated Blaine for governor must find something else if he expects to catch the rural voters unawares.

Governor Philipp has a hard row to hoe this session. Perhaps all his proposed changes in administrative government can not be accomplished in one session of the legislature, but give the people time and they will see the wisdom of the suggestions made and the lobby that opposes them will be forced to seek regions more conducive to good health than Madison.

The talk that Austria is going to sue for peace with Russia to save itself from invasion by Italy is all poppycock. Austria would lose as much if not more if it deserted its German ally a present than if Italy did occupy all the territory that it covets. Austria will not make any separate peace with Russia reports to the contrary.

All over the nation the example set by Chicago and St. Louis is starting prairie fires that no democratic oratory can quench. It is the beginning of the end for democracy the nation through. They may hold the black belt, but even Louisiana is doubtful now that the sugar tariff has gone in effect.

Superior has again slid into the wet column. It was thought at first it had gone dry, but the margin is so narrow that the liquor men must quench in their boots at what may happen in the next year.

Turkey Was Called "Indian Fowl."

The turkey, so far as records are known, was introduced into England in 1582, brought probably from the port of Cadiz, where ships trading with the Orient were accustomed to call. In nearly all countries, inclusive of Spain, and even Turkey itself, this bird is called the "Indian fowl."

The Artistic Temperament. The folks they all just gather round. And stare at him without a sound. In admiration rap they gaze. And love him for his winning ways. The callers, they all hover near. And whisper: "Ain't he just a dear?" It seems they can't get close. They are sincere; it is no bluff. It's worth a trip of many miles. When baby smiles.

But they do not remain to gaze; They scatter fifteen different ways; They dash out to the open air. Glad to escape most anywhere. They jump through windows to the ground. They smash the glass with fearful sound. They do a lot of funny stunts And all try to escape at once. They make for far-off wooded dells. When baby yells.

Advice to Banquet Speakers. Always use up ten minutes telling the audience what you cannot make a speech by the end of that time they will believe you.

When you get started speak two or three hours. Remember, the crowd didn't come to hear anybody but you.

Don't take a chance on any new stories. You are sure to get a laugh on the old ones.

When you get off the track, stop and take a drink of water, no matter how painful that may be. By the time you get through drinking the water the audience will have forgotten what you were talking about.

WOMAN'S PAGE

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

THAT WOULD BE NICE.

"That would be nice to have?"

Or

"That would be a paying investment?"

By which criterion do you do your buying, mistress of the household?

It is usually the senior member of business firm who does the buying. In the matrimonial partnership, however, it is usually the junior partner (I suppose we should be called that) who does the largest part of the household buying.

The Firm's Success May Depend on Your Buying.

The sum she handles may not be large, but, since they represent the majority of the firm's income, they should be handled with care and thought and study and not with haphazard impulsiveness.

Too many women are influenced by the vague feeling that this or that household utensil would be nice to have. Too few look at any piece of equipment they are asked to buy with a cold business-like eye and consider: "Will this be a paying investment? Will this save me enough work or give me enough pleasure to be worth to me the interest on the money it costs plus the sum needed to replace it?"

Take for instance a clothes wringer. That will be used every week. It will save at least fifteen minutes of time, some wear and tear on the clothes and much strength. If it costs four dollars and lasts ten years (with proper care it should), that means that the cost of replacing will be forty cents a year and the interest on money invested sixteen cents, making a total of fifty-six cents, a little over a cent a week.

From the most business-like point of view that is surely a good investment.

Clothes Are Also An Investment. Clothes should also be considered in the light of an investment. A gown no matter how attractive and low priced, is not a good buy unless you will wear it enough before it goes out of fashion to make it a paying proposition.

Is there not right now at least one "mistake" hanging in your wardrobe which you would not have bought if you had considered it cold bloodedly as an investment?

The housekeeping woman sometimes envies the business woman her chance to use her brains.

She does not need to. If she will carry this one department of her man-ifold duties as housemother, to its highest efficiency, if she will study values, learn to know the good from the shoddy, the efficient from the inefficient, the nutritious from the in nutritious, and teach herself to buy not from whim but as an investment, she will find ample use for all the brains she has.

Questions and Answers.

Question.—If a man is quite sure a woman cares a great deal for him and he knows the woman is uncertain about his feelings toward her, would it not be the right thing for him to let her know whether or not he cares for her? —M. R.

Reply.—Emphatically yes. One of the meanest things a man can do is to keep a woman in doubt in this matter. It is supposed to be an outrage of the descendants for a woman to betray her love, unasked. It is no less an outrage for a man to play with a woman's feelings.

Question.—L. H. wants me to give a good rule for a complexion cream. Reply.—I am very sorry that it isn't possible to answer questions of that sort in this column but if she will send me her address I will try to put her in touch with someone who can help.

Animal Jingles

FOR LITTLE FOLK

ALICE CROW GALT

ANIMAL SCHOOL.

Have you ever visited Animal Town?

If not, you will all like to hear.

Of the Animal Children, their work and their play.

I know you will think they are queer.

The first thing you see when you get to the town

Is the Animal School, painted drab;

It sits on a hill, in a big grove of trees.

And is taught by a learned old Crab.

At eight every morning the Animals go

To school, and they study hard, too.

And on Fridays they sing, and each one speaks a piece,

Exactly as you children do.

On the front row of seats are the Bees and the Ants,

The Birds, too, because they are small,

And in the last row you will find the Giraffe,

Because he is so very tall.

The first thing each morning they have the roll call,

Then they all fall to work with a zest,

But here is a funny thing each Animal

Just studies the things he likes best.

Treecraphy and all its branches are taught.

The Squirrels and the Birds like that best.

For it teaches them which kind of trees have the nuts.

And which are the nicest for nests.

And ever so many more interesting things

Are taught, but I don't know their names,

And then when recess comes the Animals play

All manner of interesting games.

But the thing that they really love best is to tease

DANDRUFF SURELY DESTROYS THE HAIR

Makes it Dull, Brittle, Lifeless, and Causes It To Fall Out.

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be sulky, fluffy, lustrous, soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

"Now, Nell," said Mrs. Morton, "if you run your table as you've been doing you'll land Richard in the poorhouse. No careful housewife buys bakers' bread."

"We've got big bread eaters, mother, and I figured it out that the fuel and work would make it fully as expensive to bake."

"Work! A housekeeper I am not paid by the house. It's a woman's business to run her home as saving as she can and not, count the work. Don't be afraid of work, Nell; it never killed anybody."

Mrs. Morton was charging around the big farm kitchen like a devastating cyclone, carrying all before it.

"Another thing," she continued, "you should use your dry bread, toasted in the oven, instead of crackers. You pay for one-fourth pound of pasteboard and paper, at 10¢ a pound, when you buy those expensive wafers. I counted half a dozen boxes when I was cleaning your pantry."

"We like crackers better than bread," objected Nell.

"Like them?" The old lady stopped, and putting her arms akimbo, looked fixedly at Nell, propped up on a big rocker on the back porch. "Are you one of the people who must have what is liked regardless of the cost?"

"I'm sorry if you are; it means you'll never get anything ahead. The people who must have what they like at any cost are hard to mouth people like us," Nell said, with a faint smile.

"I can stand as much as most women," flared Nell. "Life should be something sweet and free, not a constant repression."

Nell's voice broke.

"Fighters of life!" the sturdy old fighter of life's campaigns proclaimed as she paused at the open door.

Seeing the handkerchief wiping away the tears she added in a softer tone,

"You are in the hospital now, Nell, and not ready to join the ranks at present."

MORE ALFALFA TALK
BY ALLEN B. WEST

Question Arises at Demonstration Meeting, "Why Does Rock County Not Grow More Alfalfa?"

"Why do you not grow more alfalfa in Rock County?" was one of the questions asked the farmers by Prof. Otis at the recent farm demonstration meeting in Janesville. It brought out an interesting discussion from various farms present. It was not so many years ago that some of the best farmers said "alfalfa cannot grow in Rock County." Even Dean Henry of the Agricultural College gave it as his opinion at one time that this crop was not adapted to Wisconsin. But Ex-Governor Clegg has proven by his laudatory field work that it can be grown and with great profit in this state and so far a number of Rock county farmers have grown it that there is no longer any question about this county's production, for the acreage is limited, more is produced per acre here than is the average for the state. As before stated in these columns, Mr. Dougan of the Dougan Company's farm, says that his alfalfa has netted him $30.00 per acre for feeding his stock than his corn which produced 30 bushels to the acre. This description seemed to be that it is not grown principally because not being a native here it is more difficult for it to get a start than some other crop, and requires conditions with which the average farmer is not familiar. However, in these days when one can securely pick up an agricultural paper without seeing more or less about the growing of alfalfa there is no reason why an intelligent farmer should remain in ignorance of the foundation principles of alfalfa growing, which are well drained fertile land, sweet soil and inoculation.

Why Farmers Fail With Alfalfa.

Too many farmers making failures in their attempts with this crop are like those reported by Mr. Otis who said, "No use in talking alfalfa can't be grown on any farm and I know for I've tried it." "Did you test your soil to see if it is all right or whether it is acid?" was questioned. "No, I didn't grow corn all right guess it's not sour." Did you inoculate?" "No, I didn't inoculate. I don't believe in those new fangled notions." The principal trouble with such a man's growing alfalfa is in his mind. It is not receptive to new ideas. They will not root there.

Sow Alfalfa With All Clover Seed.

One farmer is discussing the matter of inoculation suggested that a little alfalfa seed be sown with all clover seed sown on the farm and in a few years if rotation of crops is practiced the entire farm will be inoculated and there will be no further trouble about it.

Twenty-Four Successful Crops of Alfalfa.

One farmer said he knew of a piece of alfalfa in Rock county that had produced 24 successive crops without manure, having been in six years.

Rock Phosphate or Acid Phosphate.

Another stated that he had doubled the yield of his alfalfa by the use of rock phosphate. This led discussion as to the relative merits of rock phosphate and acid phosphate and the conclusion reached was that acid phosphate gives better returns than the rock phosphate but is more expensive and the rock phosphate if plowed under with manure is able to be equally satisfactory if put on in time. Sand plaster spread on the field was thought to be of no benefit.

Alfalfa Seed.

As to alfalfa seed while it was stated that the Grimm seed is good and hardy, it is not enough better than other good tested seed to warrant paying the difference in price, as equally satisfactory results have been obtained from other seed. The Grimm seed is good and has been very popular so much so that the demand for it has been so great that more so-called "Monogram" seed has been sold through the country than the entire state produces. Alfalfa for every farm should be the slogan for Rock county!

EFFICIENCY BRINGS DAIRYING TO FRONT

Wisconsin Owes its Position as Greatest Dairy Country in World to Efficient Working.

ESPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 13.—Wisconsin owes its position as the greatest dairy country in the world more to "efficiency" than to its natural advantages. This is the statement of W. E. Meyer of Washington, who is representing the government in organizing "cow testing" associations in this state.

The dairy farmers of Wisconsin are employing modern methods in their work and they are always seeking to add to their knowledge in this line," said Meyer. "Probably the best evidence of this is the growth of the cow testing associations here. This, more than any other one thing, tends toward general improvement of the dairy industry."

Assisted by H. C. Seales of Fond du Lac and R. C. McMillan of Viroqua, who are employed by the state to further the work, Meyer has just completed the organization of seven cow testing associations in Wisconsin since Jan. 1. They are located in Manitowoc, New Richmond, Sheboygan, Elmwood, Monroe and the Fox River valley.

The testing of cows to ascertain their production was inaugurated in this state by the Wisconsin Dairymen's Association in 1908. Now there are 12 associations with a membership of 157, and employing 33 men for testing. There are 18,297 cows under the jurisdiction of these testers. A total of $20,805.45 has been subscribed for the work this year.

To encourage this work, the state appropriates $4,500 annually for salaries and stationery used for records. The government employs a representative for five states, one of which is Wisconsin, and also furnishes stationery and literature. Cooperative record keeping by cow testing association makes the work both simple and inexpensive. The tester who is usually employed by the year, spends a day at the farm during the month and makes the work both simple and inexpensive. He keeps a record of the amount of feed, the amount of milk, its richness, butter fat, and the resultant profit or loss on each cow. These records enable the farmer to change feeding conditions scientifically and to weed out unprofitable animals.

It was a Janesville paper, representing the club members and their lady friends in 1925. Stowe Lovejoy gave a few remarks on the program as the other number on the program. An enjoyable time resulted.

BEAVER DAM FARMER HAS BULL WITH HORSE AS A DRIVING TEAM

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beaver Dam, Wis., April 13.—E. L. Marshall has considerable bull.

Marshall, who lives on a farm at Highland Prairie, five miles east of this city, recently sold to town behind the most curiously mated team ever seen in this vicinity. One of the animals was an ordinary horse. The other was an 18-month old, purebred Holstein bull.

The bull walked along as unconcerned as you please and never bat an eye at any of the downtown traffic. Marshall said he had the bull trained so it could be driven single and also used it often in team work on his farm.

Marshall's dignity was considerably upset however, when he drove up to the farmer's sheds for a "fitch" and was facetiously ordered to "tie that bull outside."

The bull walked along as unconcerned as you please and never bat an eye at any of the downtown traffic.

Mr. Bruce and wife are now residents here. He began the operation of his laundry in the beginning.

Prof. W. C. Whitford of Alfred N. Y., was the guest of Prof. A. E. Whitford Saturday.

MOVIE PATRONS MAY SEE HISTORY MADE

THE GAZETTE PROVIDES VIVID WAR SCENES FOR DISPLAY AT MYERS THEATRE.

OF INTENSE INTEREST

Daring Photographers Brave Death of Battle to Obtain Pictures of Titanic Struggle.

History in the making will be presented to Janesville on the "movie" screen when views of the European war taken at the scene of the most important operations will be shown at the Myers Theatre. The pictures were procured at a great expense by representatives of the New York Sun and Chicago Herald, and are brought to Janesville through the efforts of The Gazer. The war pictures will be shown for two days beginning Saturday, April 11. Four performances will be given daily, two in the afternoon and two at night.

To be able to see the great war from comfortable theatre seats, without danger of shot, shell or imprisonment, is the opportunity Janesville citizens will have, through the pictures. They were snappish, daring photographers of the world's war, the war, their audience from villages and shrines, and even threatened with arrest and execution as spies. That the "movie" men who turned the crank for the war pictures, had no "soft snap" will be simply shown by the pictures.

Terrors of War Shown.

All the tragedy and terrors of modern warfare will be shown. Burning cities, fleeing populace, falling soldiers, the wailing of tortured and the mournful outcries of thousands of lives, tragically chronicled on the 4,000 feet of film which will be shown four times daily at the Myers.

The pictures show the operations of all the nations at war, and are not confined to any one side. German Zeppelins and 42-centimeter guns, British dreadnaughts, Belgian cities and forts, and French and Russian armies in actual operation will be exhibited.

War pictures have flooded newspapers and magazines; stories have been written about battles, marches, sieges and life in the trenches; lectures have been delivered on all phases of the war, but the pictures to be flashed on the Myers screen will be the first complete series of motion pictures of actual operations from the very heart of the places where news and history now is being made.

Actual Battle Scenes.

A French bayonet charge and an attempted flanking movement which have so far been only weakly described through press reports, are shown in their entirety.

The human interest side also is not lacking. The section showing a number of Red Cross dogs looking for wounded soldiers will prove interesting to many.

Among the things to be seen in this great series of films are the following:

Blowing up of bridges, batteries wheeling into action and the steady pounding of long range guns.

The ruins of Louvain and the wreck of St. Peters.

King Albert of Belgium and his queen Elizabeth—leading men to battle, the succoring the wounded.

Making of History.

The landing of troops ashore on the French shore.

British naval guns on armored trains in action and motor buses pressed into action.

Ponderous Zeppelins lurking over French towns and hornet-like aeroplanes on scout duty in the skies.

Belgians, Germans, French, Russians, Austrians, East Indians and Africans, humanity from three-quarters of the globe, in war's convulsions.

The Kaiser's seasoned troops as they enter Brussels, can and tanks as greyhounds after the long campaigns before Liege and Namur.

These pictures have been shown in only a few other cities before being brought to Janesville. They have been greeted by spectators and critics as the greatest revelation of history in the making ever put before the public.

MARY PICKFORD AS MISTRESS NELL

Dainty Film Favorite Seen in a Delightful Costume Character

For the first time since her connection with the Famous Players Mary Pickford, the world's most famous motion picture star, is seen in the costume of the romantic period of English history, in a five-part film adaptation of "Mistress Nell," the Paramount feature at the Apollo last night. As Nell Gwyn, the girl friend of England's theatre and England's king, during the reign of Charles II, Mary Pickford has one of the finest opportunities of her brilliant career for character delineation, so perfectly suited are the role of the actress Nell, and the plot of the drama to her temperament and talents, although the type of the play and its gorgeous settings vary greatly from all her previous vehicles.

Mary Pickford, in the good old days of the frolic and frivolous Charles II, with its wassail and revelry, and the stately cavaliers, making a rich frame for the photo-play and its dainty star. As the beautiful little actress of the old Drury Lane Theatre, Mary Pickford's "Nell Gwyn" with her graceful movements, her luxuriant curls, her saucy ways, her thousand whims, her practical jokes on England's monarch, her quick wit, generous heart, and sympathetic nature, makes a picture never to be forgotten.

The role of King Charles was portrayed by Owen Moore, and they were both supported by an able cast.

The usual Mary Pickford crowd packed the house at three performances yesterday.

Greatest Water Power.

The St. Lawrence river system is the largest in Canada, and it is probable that the water power available from it is greater than that of any other river in Canada.

The federal statute which prohibits the exhibiting of prize fight motion pictures is double-barreled—in its effect against the Johnson-Willard pictures. It prohibits the importation of such films from foreign countries, and Cuba is a foreign country. It also prohibits the shipment of the films from one state to another. It provides a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for one year, or both, for each offense. The law was passed by congress on July 31, 1910, twenty-five days after the fight. Johnson fought at Reno, Nev., and resulted from fears on the part of many members of congress, especially from the south, that race riots would follow attempts of the promoters to show the fight in the "movies."

FIVE WISCONSIN CITIES PLAN TO CURB JOY-RIDERS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Wis., April 13.—On the recommendation of Chief of Police Benjamin J. Springer of this city, Mayor A. E. Johnson has opened negotiations with the mayors of Evansville, Stoughton, Ft. Atkinson and Jefferson with a view to having these five cities jointly employ a motor-city policeman to patrol the highways in and between these cities in an effort to regulate motor traffic during the "joy-riding" months. Chief Springer states that the proportionate expense of maintaining such an officer would be very negligible to each city and at the same time would afford a fair degree of protection against motorizing "speed bugs." LEWIS EXPLAINS NEW BOOK BY DR. GULICK

Writes Letter From Frisco, Telling of Racial Problem Between Japs and Americans.

In a letter just received from F. F. Lewis, and written from San Francisco, the Japanese-American racial problem is plainly explained. The writer has had the opportunity of hearing the author of the new book, written by Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, and after hearing him several times, writes on portions of the new study. The letter is as follows:

San Francisco

March 31, 1915.

During this trip it has been my privilege to read Dr. Sidney L. Gulick's recent book on "The American-Japanese problem: a study of the racial relations of the east and the west. It will be remembered that Dr. Gulick is professor of Doshisha University of Tokyo and lectures in the Imperial University of Kyoto, Japan, and that he and Dr. Shaffer Mathews of Chicago University have recently toured Japan in behalf of the Federated Churches of America in its good will mission to Japan.

Dr. Gulick delivered several lectures on the subject in Honolulu which I attended. The question is up for adjustment. It is a problem that will only remain settled when it is settled right, with just consideration to the people of both nations. The doctor says substantially that the early treaties between Japan and the United States had been instrumental in preserving Japan from the worries which Europe inflicted on China; for Japan's difficulties with the powers were largely based upon the powers framed with the United States.

When Japan came to realize that she was profoundly and even sentimentally gratified using "sentimentality" in its best sense. When suspicion, apathy, injustice, rank stories and hostile legislation came to Japan. She was puzzled, grieved, angered. In Dr. Gulick's travels through the United States and Japan, he found two misconceptions almost universal, "we in the United States believe that Japan is demanding the open door. She is not. All Japan asks is courteous, honorable, equitable treatment." He finds the Japanese willing to concede the economic disturbance a large influx of a people having a different standard of living might make; that they are willing to agree that they cannot expect equal treatment until they show that they are entering the country with the intent to merge into its customs and institutions. But they have not understood the peculiar relations of the States to the Federal government, as such conditions could not exist for a moment in Japan. And the doctor says they have not understood that the California act takes nothing from them that was theirs by treaty. He says the California law was very adroitly drawn. Although its purpose is to discriminate against the Japanese, it affirms that they shall enjoy all the treaty rights of any other alien not eligible to citizenship. The joke lies in the last form words, still because the affirmation is so plainly made that they will probably stand the test of the courts.

The Japanese have not understood that the agitation against them was only one manifestation of the great conflict between capital and labor. So, there, we had this almost universal misunderstanding—the Japanese asking only equitable, courteous treatment, thinking the while that they were being made the victims of an unfeeling race prejudice, and the Americans thinking that Japan was seeking to crowd in where she was not wanted.

The doctor believes "this misunderstanding can be cleared away—that California has not been wholly born and blind"—that "it is undoubtedly time that with unrestricted immigration there would have been millions of orientals now on the Pacific slope, that it would have been impossible to assimilate this mass, that there would have grown up an intolerable condition, a sub-jet race within a race." "Oriental immigration, then, must be restricted, but on what principle? The problem is not wholly critical, immigration now is too large from Europe. A general law is needed."

We should admit only so many as we can assimilate, only so many as can help forward our astonishing experiments in universal democracy. Already there is within our borders a vast mass of unassimilated material."

How much can we assimilate? That depends on how many already have been assimilated. They are the gateway through which newcomers must pass. They are those in whom the newcomers largely will learn a new attitude of mind."

"Placing the rest of assimilation on naturalization. I would advise that only a small per cent of those already assimilated of any nationality be allowed to enter each year. Put it at five percent."

"Taking the known number of American born Chinese and of American born Japanese in the country, that would mean about 220 new Japanese and 700 new Chinese each year, a comparatively insignificant total. The process would work automatically. We have, for instance, a great number of American born Germans. Five percent of their number would be a greater total than the German immigration of recent years. So that none of the desirable immigration would be excluded, while in case of some of the less desirable recent arrivals the annual immigration would be heavily cut down."

"I am not concerned with the percentage, however. If five percent were too large, it could cut to two or even one."

"Then we ought to regulate every alien. We ought to keep track of him and his face after he has been admitted. He would suggest that he be charged a registration fee of say ten dollars annually."

"If we intend to make citizens of aliens we admit, we ought to provide them with facilities for education in citizenship. Tuitions should be free and I would have annual examinations—six of them would be my choice, the registration fee to be reduced a dollar as each examination was passed."

"Admission to citizenship should be only to those who have passed all the examinations and it ought not to be heaped on but on some one day of the year. I would surround it with flags and patriotic exercises so that when the new citizen was admitted to the union on some national birthday such as Fourth of July, or Washington's birthday, he might feel his part in the occasion."

The fact is clear, citizenship in this great Democracy should mean something. Its privileges should be held too valuable to be sold to a ward beeler for two dollars or a glass of beer. Under our system of relationship between the states and the Federal Government only the Federal Government can regulate the conditions of citizenship. National legislation is needed at this time that misunderstanding, suspicion, antipathy, and injustice shall not sow the seeds of estrangement between us and any portion or portions of the world that can grow into misery and brutality of war."

Difference Between Them.

"The king of Prussia," Napoleon once remarked to General Gouraud at St. Helena, "was a real booby. Every time he came to see me to talk over important affairs, he never managed to say anything on the subject. He went off about shakos, buttons, skin haversacks and a lot of other nonsense, while I did not know a word about such trifling military details."

A CHI-NAMEL DEMONSTRATION THAT IS DIFFERENT

YOU can ask the Demonstrator to show you any Chi-Namel product you may be interested in, actually applied.

For instance—White Enamel, Porch Furniture, Enamel, Gold and Aluminum Paint, Floor Wax, Furniture Polish, Metal Polish, Colored Varnishes, Automobile and Carriage Color Finish, Etc.

She will not merely show you the package containing these materials, but show it in the brush,—in fact you can take the brush and apply it yourself.

You can see the actual color—see how easy it is to apply—how all brush marks disappear before it hardens.

This will be a demonstration worth while for any one who is responsible for the care and good appearance of the interior woodwork and furniture of a home.

By asking for a demonstration of any particular Chi-Namel product you will not place yourself under obligation to buy; this demonstration is to acquaint the public with the use and economy of Chi-Namel in the home.

I'VE FOUND JUST THE HOUSE I WANT

Two families were about to move and the lady of each house knew just what she wanted in the way of a home.

They met the other day and the first thing Mrs. X burst forth with "I've found just the house I want."

"How did you find it?" asked Mrs. Z.

"Why, by watching the Gazette and reading the want ads," replied the first lady. "You know I read those little ads every night whether I want anything or not. You just try it yourself and if you can not find the house you want, why put in an ad yourself. Then you will be sure to get it."

"I'll just do that," said Mrs. Z.

We hope she was not disappointed. Everyone should read the little advertisements on this page. And if you do not see what you want, advertise for it.

PHILIPP ENDEAVORS TO FULFILL PLEDGES

GOVERNOR EXERTS EVERY EFFORT TO KEEP FAITH WITH PEOPLE, SAYS STATEMENT.

LEAGUE RAPS ENEMIES

Home Rule Committee Scores Politicians Who Resort to Bogus Referendum and Underhanded Tactics.

In a letter sent out today from a committee of the Home Rule and Taxpayers' league praises Governor Philip for his fidelity to the people who elected him and scores his opponents who, it is charged, resort to contemptible tactics in their attempt to discredit the administration. The statement of the league follows:

The battle for lower taxes, for greater economy in the administration, for relief from bureaucratic power, as exercised by countless commissions, experts, inspectors, examiners, and other officials, for the restoration to the people of the rights of self-government, of which they have, in recent years, been deprived—this great battle has been transferred from the stump and the ballot box to the halls of legislation. This is as you fight during the campaign, and it is your fight now. Under our form of government the will of the people, as expressed at our regular elections, is supposed to be, in due time, enacted into law by their representatives. In no other way can a genuine democracy be maintained.

TRY TO BALK ECONOMY.

We have in Wisconsin, however, a few politicians who seem to be opposed to that practice—at least until the results of an election are not what they hoped for. Their candidate for governor did not receive over one vote in ten of those cast at the last election. The political principles and partisan politics for which they stood were utterly repudiated. At the close of one of the most earnest, active campaigns conducted in Wisconsin for a quarter of a century, the voters, by overwhelming majorities, condemned the public and private forces as wasteful and extravagant, financially, bureaucratic in tendency, and undemocratic in aim and purpose. These same men are now trying to block the legislation for which the people called, and prevent the relief for which the people demanded.

Governor Philip is trying, by the use of all the powers vested in him as chief executive of the state, to keep faith with the people, to live up to the promises made, and keep sacred the pledges given during the campaign; but, and those who are loyally supporting him are constantly grossly misrepresented, and sometimes cruelly maligned. A press bureau is being steadily and industriously worked. Articles evidently inspired and prepared by the supporters and the present bureaucratic system, appear at regular intervals in certain papers, in Milwaukee, St. Paul, Chicago, New York, and other cities, and are then reported in home papers, to impress and influence legislators. This is not the time for small politics to succeed, when the people are aroused, alert, determined to bring about necessary changes. The truth is too transparent. The methods adopted are too contemptible. The object sought to be attained, i. e., to thwart the will of the people, is too clear. Neither the people of Wisconsin, nor their legislative representatives can be deceived or imposed upon in any such way.

ATTEMPT BOGUS REFERENDUM. Something akin to the press bureau agency is the recent attempt to resort to a bogus referendum. Some resolutions were sent out to town meetings to go from the people an expression of opinion on certain public questions. These questions did not deal with the real issues now up for settlement, nor were they fairly and honestly framed to permit the voters to give their views on the subjects with which they did deal. It was simply another example of that political trickery, that factional fraud, with which our people have become so too familiar. There was nothing fair, open, nor open about it. It can have but one result, and that is a marked reaction against the methods and policies of those who got up the scheme.

WHY NOT QUESTIONS FRAMED TO GET THE VIEWS OF THE VOTERS ON LOWER TAXES, GETTING RID OF UNNECESSARY OFFICE HOLDERS, ABOLISHING USELESS COMMISSIONS, CONSOLIDATING MANY OF THE STATE AGENCIES NOW IN EXISTENCE, SO AS TO SAVE EXPENSES AND DISMISSING AT ONCE HUNDREDS, BETTER STILL THOUSANDS, OF THE PERIPATETIC VISITORS, INSPECTORS, EXPERTS, ETC., NOW CLOTHED WITH A LITTLE BRIEF POWER TO ANNOY AND IRRITATE BUSINESS MEN IN EVERY FIELD OF INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY? The authors of the referendum did not want to know what the people think in regard to these questions. The echoes from the ballot box have not yet died away. They want to confuse the issues, to embarrass the administration, to put some one in the hole.

TACTICS LAID BARE. We call the attention of the taxpayers of the state to the tactics now adopted by the opponents of the administration. Because they failed as an engine, they now insist upon being a brake on the car of progress. Every effort made to unite our educational system and make it more effective and efficient, especially in building up and strengthening the common schools is met by the foolish and false cry that we are "attacking the university."

WE CALL ATTENTION TO THE WASTE AND MISMANAGEMENT IN THAT INSTITUTION, WE ARE ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTING TO "DESTROY AN EDUCATION," WHETHER THAT MAY MEAN. WHEN WE ASK FOR JUSTICE TO THE HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN WHO NEVER EVEN HIGH SCHOOL, MUCH LESS UNIVERSITY PRIVILEGES, WE ARE CALLED "ENEMIES OF THE UNIVERSITY." THESE PEOPLE HAVE YET TO LEARN THAT EPITHETS ARE A POOR SUBSTITUTE FOR ARGUMENT, THAT CALLING BAD NAMES IS NOT THE BEST WAY TO EITHER CONVERT OR CONVINCE AN OPPONENT. WHEN WE ASK FOR DECENT ECONOMY AND COMMON SENSE IN THE MANAGEMENT OF PUBLIC FUNDS, WHEN WE ASK FOR THE RELIEF WHICH THE PEOPLE DEMANDED, AND WHICH PRACTICALLY ALL INTELLIGENT MEN ADMIT MUST COME, WE ARE CHARGED WITH THE HONORABLE CRIME OF ATTEMPTING TO "UNDO ALL THE GOOD THAT HAS BEEN DONE," AND SO ON AD NAUSEAM.

KEEP LAWMAKERS INFORMED. We appeal to the members of the league throughout the state to keep in close touch with their representatives; to encourage them in the support of legislative measures presented to carry out in good faith the will of the people. At least one million dollars a year can be saved by abolishing unnecessary commissions, consolidating others, and that without limiting or stopping any necessary public work. From one-half to three-quarters of a million dollars a year can be saved by adopting better business methods in managing the university, thus leaving more funds to aid in building up our common schools. All along the line economy and better business management are needed.

CHICAGO'S MAYOR-ELECT REMOVES COAT AND GETS BUSY WITH CITY'S PROBLEMS

Mayor-elect William H. Thompson (photographed since election).

Mayor-elect William H. Thompson of Chicago will not take office for several days yet, but he has already taken off his coat and plunged into the problems of the Windy City. He has promised to drive all the grafters and crooks from Chicago and give the city the best administration it has ever had.

Further, the people can attend to their own business without so much official interference. They can, through their local officers, assess their own property, levy their own taxes, build their own roads, run and manage their own schools, and run the great industries that add to the wealth and promote the advancement of all our people.

AN INGENUOUS, INTELLIGENT, FAIR Minded man can deny that the people of Wisconsin are overgoverned and overtaxed. As a rule, every official thinks his department is also necessary, and his services indispensable. It is no use to look to officials for a change. If the relief comes at all, it must be because the people insist upon it and turn a deaf ear to the fallacies, fumblings and fraudulent representations of the present system.

IN SUBSEQUENT ARTICLES SOME OF THE MORE IMPORTANT BILLS NOW PENDING BEFORE THE LEGISLATURE WILL BE FAIRLY PRESENTED AND FULLY DISCUSSED UPON THEIR MERITS.

Committee of the League.

APPEALS FOR WIFE IN LETTER TO DONALD: MUST HAVE TEN THOUSAND

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., April 13.—An appeal for a wife came in Secretary of State Donald's mail from a Chicago man this week. The would-be Benedict wanted a widow or "old maid" with $10,000, and if he got one he promised to buy land in Wisconsin and settle down. Mr. Donald is making no promises. A similar entreaty came to the secretary of state two years ago from a man in Saskatchewan, Canada.

BELIEVES "AVERAGE AMERICAN IS NOT WORTH WHILE," WILL DIVORCE HUSBAND AND MAKE BID FOR GLORY ON THE STAGE

Mrs. Marguerite Upton Hopkins of Washington, D. C., has lost all faith in men and declares that the average American man is decidedly not worth while. She thinks the only real career for a woman is on the stage, so she will become an actress pretty soon. Mrs. Hopkins has another big idea, to wit: that she is the best dressed woman in the national capital. Her husband, Sherbourne Hopkins, Jr., represents many Mexican and Central American interests in Washington, and is at present somewhere in Central America. "But, wherever he is," Mrs. Hopkins emphatically states, "he is going to have a divorce suit to defend."

GERMAN SUBMARINES HAVE REGULAR BEAT

Scaman Declares "U-28" Traveled Between Rotterdam and England.

—Description of Exciting Chase.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Rotterdam, April 13.—The German submarine "U-28," according to seamen who travel between this port and England, has a regular beat which she patrols between the Maas Lightship and the North Hook. Practically every day she is on duty along that route watching for the railway and cargo steamers on their way to Hull or Harwich or Rotterdam. She has a number of captures to her credit at this point, although she has not yet succeeded in getting any of the fast mail or railway packet boats. Her speed is superior and they vary their course on each trip so as to make it impossible for the submarine to lie in wait along the way.

The following description of the pursuit of one of the railway steamers is published here: "The ship was pounding along at twelve knots, when suddenly there was a flash of sunlight on the surface of the sea, maybe two miles away, and the lookout called sharply, 'Submarine on the port bow!'

"There was a sharp command to the man at the wheel, and the ship changed her course. Then a quick call down the tube and the engineer sang out to his stokers, 'Beat her to boy. U-28 is having another go.' Down the stokehold tumbled the deckhands, eager to help with shovel and oil can. The water jumped in the gudgeon, the safety valves showed signs of trouble, there was a smell of heated bearings, the ship began to quiver, while the perspiring crew made bets with each other on the race.

"The captain himself took the wheel. Beside him stood the ship's boy, watching with fascinated eyes the white wake which marked the course of the submarine sailing at fourteen knots to cut them off. Smoke and fire streamed from the funnels and there was an odor of burning paint. The iron deck chattered and groaned under the demands of the engines and the ship gained headway.

"Suddenly the captain's shoulder gave a lurch, his hand shot down, the boy thrown off his balance fell against the bulwarks, and the ship swerved in a half circle on a new course. Gradually the speed rose to thirteen, fourteen, fourteen and a half knots. The captain's face relaxed into a smile.

WHAT IF THE ENGINE SHOULD BREAK DOWN? thought the boy, as his eyes again sought that distant white wake.

IN THE LONG, STORMY CHASE THE SAME

THOUGHT OFTEN TO ME TO THE CAPTAIN, BUT HIS FACE SHOWED NOTHING BUT A QUIET INTEREST AND HIS HANDS HELD STRONG ON THE WHEEL. SMALLER AND SMALLER GREW THE PURSUER, UNTIL FINALLY IT SILENTLY GAVE UP THE CHASE.

THEN CAME CALL DOWN THE TUBE, A HEAVY SIGH OF RELIEF FROM THE ENGINE.
